NUMBER 21

Sen. Dodd's Former Aide Will Speak

Tonight at 7:30, Mr. James Boyd, the former administrative assistant to Senator Thomas Dodd, will speak on "Congressional Ethics" in the University Center Ballroom.

BOYD IS THE man made famous by Drew Pearson's series of newspaper columns last year which ultimately resulted in Sen. Dodd's censure by the Senate on grounds of questionable ethics.

Students Will Organize Rodeo

Having attended several meetings of the Mid-South Intercollegiate Rodeo Association at Middle Tennessee State, Glenn Bruce and Tommy Sanders are attempting to organize a UTM Rodeo Team which will compete with similar groups at Austin Peay, Tennessee Tech, and Middle Tennessee State.

AN ORGANIZATIONAL MEETING for this group will be held tonight at 7 in Room 111 of the AB Building. Dr. N.W. Robinson of the Agriculture Department will serve as sponsor.

Based on the rules of the International Rodeo Association, competition will include "bareback riding," "bronco riding," "bull riding," calf roping, and "bull-dogging." Girls are urged to join as there are four events in the female division including wild goat tying and barrel racing on ponies.

If successful the rodeo team hopes to compete in the MTSU Rodeo May 10-11. Future plans tentatively include a rodeo competition sponsored by this campus.

Housing Complex Work Begins

Work has begun on a $1,000,000 married student-faculty housing complex Vice Chancellor for Development, Dr. Jack Mays, has announced.

THE UNIVERSITY Courts, complex will consist of six buildings containing 92 apartments, a combination administration and recreation center, tennis courts, and a swimming pool for use of the occupants.

The housing units will consist of 44 one-bedroom, 44 two-bedroom, and four three-bedroom apartments. Each apartment will have a combination living room-dining room, and a kitchen.

THE FACILITIES are being located on University property at the intersection of Mt. Pellia Road and Peach Street, immediately east of Volunteer General Hospital.

Financing of the housing project is by private capital through the Vector Corporation of Knoxville, with amortization to come from rentals. The architects are Good and Goodstein, and the contractor is the Rudder Construction Co., both Knoxville firms.

Engineering Frosh Work In New Co-op Program

Forty-six freshmen enrolled in Engineering have qualified for the co-operative work study program, according to James O. Jones, department head.

Of this number, 26 began work this quarter, and the remainder will begin summer quarter.

"THE PURPOSE OF the program," Jones said, "is to give the student experience in the industry while he is receiving academic training." The various industries are able to offer co-op students complete laboratory facilities and practical on-the-job training which can not be obtained on campus.

An average of 115 UTM students participate in the program with some 80 companies. Several students are affiliated with NASA, Lockheed, Boeing and other companies participating in the U.S. Space Program.

OTHER STUDENTS work for Monsanto, Union Carbide, Dupont, B. F. Goodrich, Plough Inc., and other companies doing chemical research.

Civil engineering students are given the opportunity to work for the utility divisions in various cities, TVA, and major construction companies such as Forcum-Lannom, Allen and Hoshall, and L & N Railroad.

"STUDENTS USUALLY serve as an assistant to an engineer," stated Jones. "The 62 men who are working this quarter will earn over $100,000."

Through the program, the student gains two years experience, and nets approximately $10,000 during his quarters away from school. A student continues to co-op from the Knoxville campus, after leaving Martin to receive advance academic training.

IT TAKES A student five calendar years to complete the program. Most co-op students continue their education by attending University extensions, community colleges, or by taking correspondence courses while at their job locale.

"Such programs give the industry an excellent opportunity to pre-select and train the best men in the field. Roughly 50% of the co-op students return to work for their sponsoring company after graduation," Jones added.

English Professors To Attend Council Of State Teachers

Seven members of the English department will attend the annual meeting of the Tennessee Council of Teachers of English Friday at the Andrew Jackson Hotel in Nashville.

ATTENDING THE luncheon meeting and afternoon program organized by Dr. Stephen Mooney, English professor, will be Dr. Charles Mangam, chairman of the English department, Dr. Mooney, Walter Haden, Kellie Jones, Susan Goss, Dorothea Norton, and Hortense Parrish.

Dr. Louis D. Rubin Jr., English professor at the University of North Carolina, will be the principal speaker at the meeting.

A HIGHLIGHT of the program will be the presenting of poetry awards by Professor Mooney, founder and publisher of the Tennessee Poetry Journal, to winners in a state-wide poetry contest sponsored by the council and the Tennessee Poetry Journal.

Dean Campbell Fills Vice Chancellor Post

Dr. Norman Campbell has been named to the newly created post of vice chancellor for academic affairs, Chancellor Archie R. Dykes announced Monday.

IN ADDITION to the position of vice chancellor, Dr. Campbell will also continue to serve as director of Graduate Programs, a position to which he was appointed in 1967.

A native of Greenfield, Dr. Campbell attended the public schools of Weakley County before enrolling at The University of Tennessee Junior College and later The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, where he earned the bachelor of science and the master of science degrees. In 1961, he was awarded the doctor of philosophy degree in chemistry by the University of Illinois.

DR. CAMPBELL began his teaching career in the Weakley County Schools where he served as both instructor and principal. He also taught for two years at Bethel College and in 1943 came to UTM where he has served as instructor, assistant professor, associate professor, professor, head of physical sciences, chairman of the Liberal Arts Department and Dean of Instruction, a post he has held since 1964.

His professional affiliations include membership in the American Chemical Society, in which he served as chairman of the Kentucky Lake Section in 1956; the American Association for the Advancement of Science; the Tennessee Academy of Science, of which he served as president in 1967;

Change Effective July 1

Academic Structure To Be Reorganized

Implementing action taken by the board of trustees at its June, 1968, meeting, Chancellor Archie R. Dykes announced Monday the reorganization of the academic structure of this University.

BEGINNING JULY 1, the academic program will be conducted through five schools, two with their respective departments, and through two independent departments. Each school will be headed by a dean and each department by a chairman.

Chancellor Dykes noted that the changes in the academic structure, especially the elevation of departments to schools, will better accommodate the growth of the University, facilitate the development of the academic program, and provide more fully for the educational needs of students now and in the future.

THE FIVE DEANS of schools will be Harold J. Smith, Agriculture; William H. Baker, Business Administration; Karl E. Keefer, Education; Miss Mary R. Armstrong, Home Economics, and Phillip Watkins (acting), Liberal Arts. Chairmen of the two independent departments will be J. O. Jones, Engineering, and George L. Freeman or his replacement, Military Science.

Designated to serve as chairmen of the three departments in the School of Education are Glenn S. Gailien, Elementary and Secondary Education; Miss Harriet E. Fulton, Music Education, and James C. Henson, Physical Education and Health.

NAMED TO SERVE as chairmen of the Departments in the National Education Association; the Tennessee and West Tennessee Education associations, and the American Association of Higher Education. He is a Methodist and a Rotarian.

DR. CAMPBELL married the former Ruby Robinson of Sharon, and they have three daughters.

BULLETIN

Dean of Instruction Norman Campbell has been hospitalized at Obion County General Hospital since last Thursday.

AFTER A SUDDEN attack of stomach pains and hemorrhaging, Dr. Campbell was taken to surgery.

"Dr. Campbell will be in the hospital at least another week and then he will remain at home for a couple of weeks of rest," commented Dr. Phillip Watkins, assistant dean of instruction.

HE ALSO ADDED that the type of attack Dr. Campbell suffered is considered very unusual and consequently is unlikely to reoccur according to a Union City physician.

Liberal Arts are Jimmy N. Trentham, biological sciences; Charles R. Mangam, English; Harry M. Hutson, history and political science; Paul P. Foote, mathematics; Miss Muriel D. Tomlinson, modern foreign languages; Carl R. Wasmuth, physical sciences; and Milton D. Simmons, social sciences.

Swiss Films To Be Shown

Anton R. Lendl, internationally traveled commentator on life in Switzerland, will present color films of his native homeland tomorrow night at 8:00 in the Ballroom of the University Center.

EDUCATED IN Switzerland, Italy, Austria, France, and Germany, Lendl served during World War II in the Canadian Active Army as an intelligence officer. A dual citizen of Canada and Switzerland, he is currently a resident of Canada.

The films include scenes from village life, festivals, feudal castles, and the forests.

Baker Favors Abolishment Of Electoral College

Through the efforts of Tennessee's junior Senator, Howard Baker Jr., action is now being taken to bring about a much needed reform of the American electoral machinery.

SENATOR BAKER HAS long advocated the abolishment of the electoral college in favor of direct election of the President. Currently he is co-sponsoring legislation in the Senate which would achieve this goal.

In answer to the argument that direct election would tend to disrupt the two-party system by creating numerous ideologically-oriented parties, Senator Baker points out that there are many institutional factors which discourage third parties.

"ELECTORAL LAWS, CAMPAIGN practices, social patterns, the high cost of political campaigning, and statutory obstacles to getting on the ballot all contribute to the difficulty which minor parties have in attaining any degree of national influence or support," Senator Baker said.

Other criticism of the direct election method professes that a direct vote would be disruptive of the federal system by bringing about irresistible pressures for national laws governing qualifications for voting and conduct of elections. Some say this would constitute a threat to state control of voting for representatives, senators, and even state and local officials, thus violating state sovereignty.

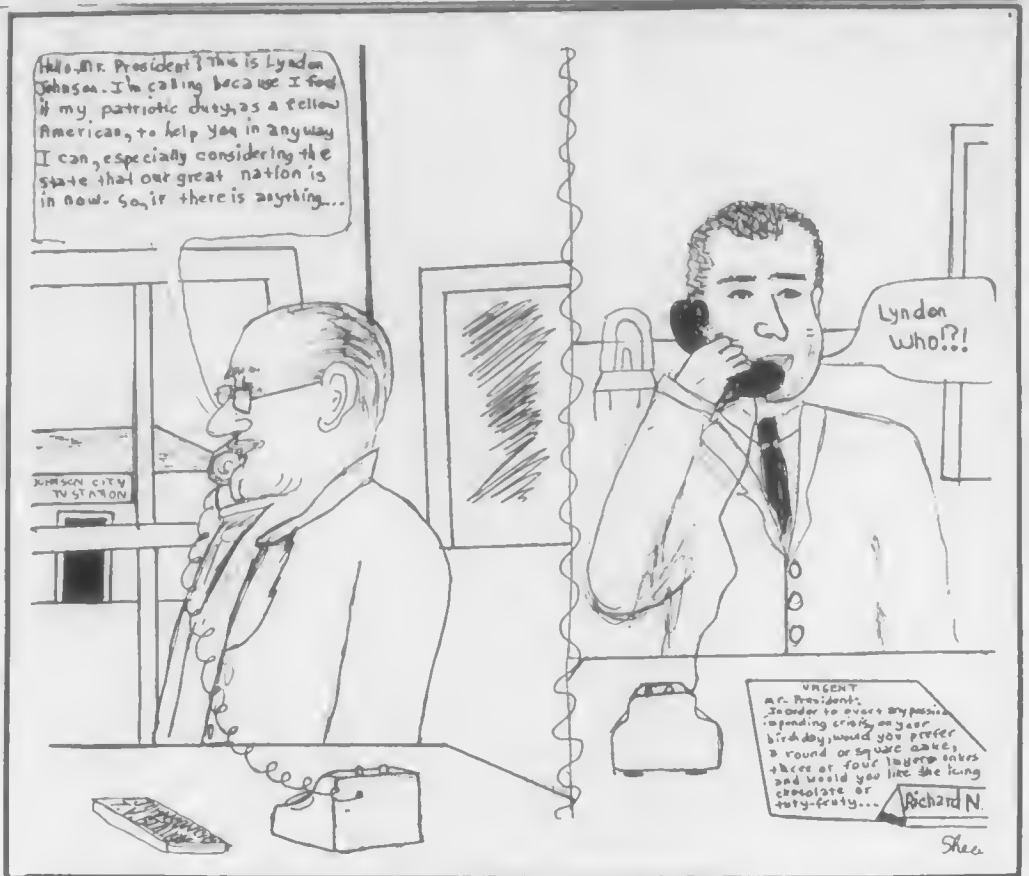

ALTHOUGH A FIRM supporter of states' rights, in matters of national concern, Baker believes "it is both proper and equitable that some national qualifications be enacted along with the adoption of direct election of our President."

Among these qualifications Senator Baker suggests a uniform voting age of 18 years, provisions permitting transient citizens to vote in national elections, and a 24-hour voting coordinated between time zones.

IN FURTHER DEFENSE of direct election Senator Baker states, "The President's constituency is not a district or a state but the entire nation. It appears to me absolutely essential that the election of the President of the United States be accomplished in the most direct, democratic, and participatory manner that can be devised."

Independent Emphasis Marks Today's Campuses

(ACP) "People are more independent and individually oriented." This statement by Dick Lentz, vice president of Berkeley's Interfraternity Council, in the Dec. 9 issue of "Newsweek" may be the reason that fraternities are becoming archaic living arrangement.

THE ARTICLE STATED that, "In a campus era of activism and super-social consciousness the Greek way seems like a system that has failed to adapt."

Berkley, for example, had 51 fraternities with 613 pledges eight years ago. This year it is down to 41 houses and only 275 pledges. Two fraternities and one sorority folded in the past year because of financial difficulties brought on by lack of members.

THE GREEK SYSTEMS at UCLA and Northwestern are also having problems. The number of students eligible for rushing at UCLA has decreased by almost 300 in one year -- from 635 to 344. Three fraternities are in serious financial trouble. Fraternities and sororities are less able to pick and choose their pledges.

Parade Of Opinion

It is pathetic how much is being spent in Tenn. on education, and how little we are getting in the type of young people being turned out. Taxpayers are not as dumb as you credit them. They know there is much waste in education and are tired of subsidizing it. As well as a taxpayer, I have degrees in Sociology and Psychology -- taught and traveled in many foreign countries as well as U.S.A.

The above undated, unsigned letter was received by this newspaper Monday. It was postmarked Nashville, March 18. ORDINARILY, ANONYMOUS letters are not considered for publication. However, this unusual mail missive conjures up a myriad of possibilities, or neuroses.

The mysterious writer with degrees in sociology and psychology seems somewhat spastic in trying to communicate. He was evidently motivated to pen it due to a letter-to-the-editor written by the Volette editors which appeared in the Nashville Tennessean recently.

UNFORTUNATELY, HE DID not elaborate his thoughts (?) enough to reveal what he wanted to say. His fragmentary concern over education is taken to heart, but due to the inadequacies of the letter, it can't be taken to heart...

March 6, 1969

Dear Editors:

After announcing the rating obtained in the recent SUSGA competition by the VOLETTE, I found it very ironical that you showed such lack of organization and common sense as to print such a disaster as the opinion poll concerning the institution of an honor code at UTM. (VOLETTE, March 5, 1969 -- page six)

I DON'T KNOW where your anonymous author obtained his "typical response of some 80 to 100 students" since he didn't bother to disclose any such information except for those students he quoted. I think that if he were to take a carefully distributed and proportioned cross-section of this university's student body, however, the general opinion would not be that "cheating is the accepted thing to do" or that "some teachers even condone it."

The success of a project such as an honor code is dependent on the character of the students it protects, not the size of the university it encompasses. To say that "the student body is substandard in honesty" is to question the character of some 3,500 students. I think that it is a shame and an outrage that this demeaned opinion has been credited to the majority of UTM students in so advertised a manner.

Three ROTC Grads Get Commission

Three Reserve Officer Training Corps cadets received commissions as second lieutenants in the U. S. Army in a ceremony held at the University Center last week.

COL. GEORGE L. Freeman, head of the Military Science Department, administered the oath of office to Wayne Bailey of Meridian, Mississippi, Jerry Lee Morgan of Somerville, and Barry W. Watson of Humboldt. Chancellor Archie R. Dykes presented the commissions to the graduates who are scheduled to go on active duty during the month of April.

LIEUTENANTS BAILEY AND Morgan were presented the Distinguished Military Graduate award at the ceremony, recognizing their outstanding achievements while enrolled in the ROTC program here for four years.

Lt. Bailey was commissioned a transportation officer and will be assigned to Ft. Eustis, Va., for the basic officer's course.

LTS. WATSON AND Morgan have been commissioned as infantry officers and will be assigned to Ft. Benning, Georgia.

Sorority Rush Begins Monday

Sorority Spring rush ends Saturday at noon. All girls interested in registering may do so in Dean Pace's office.

THE GIRLS WHO register will attend an open house in each sorority lodge Monday. The group will meet in the Ballroom of the University Center at 6:30. Classroom dress will be appropriate.

Golf Schedule Announced

The golf team pushed its season record to 2-0 last week, defeating Christian Brothers College 14 1/2-6 1/2 at Fuller Park in Memphis.

VETERAN VOL golfer Roger Cooksey of Memphis turned in a 72 for the lowest round of the day, but Lex Pruitt of CBC beat him on holes. Pruitt scored 73.

ART MULWITZ, TEAM captain and 1968 medalist, paced the Vols with a two under par 70.

A full 1969 schedule of 15 matches and 3 tournaments for the golf team has been announced by James Jensen, director of athletics.

VOL GOLFERS opened the season against Southeast Missouri on March 15, at the Weakley County Country Club. It was the first match with the university.

Other teams appearing for the first time on the UTM schedule are Wisconsin State University and St. Bernard College of Cullman, Alabama.

THE VOLUNTEERS WILL participate in three collegiate tournaments, including the Tennessee Intercollegiate Athletic Conference in Sewanee, one of the top tournaments in the Southeast, the Mid-South Classic in Clarksville, a new tournament organized by Coach Sherwin Clift of Austin Peay State University, and the VSAC tournament in Athens.

Four lettermen returned from the 1968 team which had a season record of 13 wins and 4 losses and finished second in the VSAC tournament.

"WITH THE NUMBER OF lettermen returning and the help that we should receive from the freshmen, we could possibly have the best team we have ever fielded at UTM. This depends upon how hard these young men are willing to work to improve their game," golf coach Grover Page said.

Heading the list of returnees is 1968 team medalist Art Mulwitz of Stamford, Connecticut. Others returning are Mike Powell of Trenton, Jim Fisher of Humboldt, and Roger Cooksey of Memphis.

COOKSEY AND MULWITZ tied for second place in individual scores in the 1968 VSAC tournament.

Several newcomers are expected to push the lettermen for the six team positions. Jimmy Knott of Trenton, Ben Baker of Martin, and Bill Taylor of Memphis have been singled out by Coach Page as top performers in pre-season rounds.

"Most of our freshmen have played competitive golf in high school and in several tournaments so they should be ready to play good college golf consistently after a few matches," Coach Page concluded.
